Things Theatrical Beginning to Move a Little.

De Wolf Hopper and Other Old Favorites to Be Heard Again.

The "White Squadron" will have its first metropolitan production at the Fourteenth Street Theatre Monday night. It is the work of James W. Harkins Jr., and deals with the recent Congress of Nations at Rio de Janeiro to protest against the persistent brigandage tolerated in Brazil. The principal scenes will be the Grand Plaza of Rio, a Glazed monastery in the interior of South America, and the harbor of Rio. In the cast will be Henry Lee, Elmer Grandin, William Harcourt, Oscar Eagle, Robert Hilliard, Antoine Butler, Graham Henderson, Alice Fischer, Stuart, Louise Erdridge, and Nelly Yale.

E. H. Sothern will begin his annual season at the Lyceum Theatre Tuesday night in Miss Marguerite Merrington's play entitled "Captain Letterblair." This comedy had a single matinee performance some months ago at the Lyceum Theatre, and was received with some favor. Many changes have, however, been made in the play since then, and these changes are described as improvements. Mr. Sothern plays the part of an Irish officer in the Royal Guards. His leading lady will be that capital actress, and pleasant-looking young woman, Virginia Barnes.

De Wolf Hopper, recruited by his European trip, will again disport himself in "Wang" at the Broadway Theatre, Monday night. The management believe that the vitality of this very amusing "burletta" has not been seriously impaired, and the indications are that this managerial belief is correct. When the interest in "Wang" dies, "The Lady or the Tiger" will be substituted. "Pretty Little Fox" will head Mr. Hopper's company.

The preliminary season of the Standard Theatre will be opened to-night with a play new to this city, entitled "Lady Lil." The author of the play is Laurence Marston, the husband of the star, Lillian Lewis, who is not completely a stranger to metropolitan audiences. The action of "Lady Lil" takes place in 1860, and the people of the play are Prussian, Americans, Americans, Bohemians and Frenchmen. The cast will include Gustavus Edwards, W. W. Mayo, and others.

"Jerry" is the name of the play that will be introduced for the first time to a New York audience at the Windsor Theatre to-night. The star of the piece will be the popular actor, and the leading female role will be intrusted to Grade Emmett, a soubrette. "Jerry" has been acted in England and Australia, and will open on the outside many times in the part that he will play at the Windsor.

The three hundredth performance of "A Trip to Chinatown" in this city, will be celebrated at the Alhambra Theatre Aug. 29, when every remaining ticket will be presented with a silver calendar, a companion to the thermometer that was the souvenir of the first performance. Anna Boyd and Harry Conant will, during the coming week, add new verses to their songs, and the McMillan will, on Monday night, repeat them.

"The Maccabees" remains at Palmer's Theatre, where it has been patiently stayed through the intense heat—a fact that would try the endurance of any comic opera.

Dixie is now re-hearing a new feature called "The Seven Ages of Dancing," that will shortly introduce into the second act, and how long it will remain there has not yet been definitely decided; but another revival will take its place when Mr. Atkin deems it advisable to make a change.

Miss P. G. T. Beauregard, who made a hit on the roof of the Madison Square Garden last Sunday night, will sing again to-morrow night, and will interpret a number of "Goliath" songs and dances.

Walter H. Rosch has decided to give two Spanish nights each week at the Madison Square Theatre, and these performances will occur every Saturday evening.

Madison Square Garden, which, it is said, is always very large on Wagner nights.

Walter H. Rosch has indicated that he will again remain at the Eden Music.
